Re: Solares v. Kam Fung Wong, Inc. et al.
Docket No. 22-CV-00712 (ENV) (PK)

Dear Judge Kuo:

We represent Adrian Solares (“Plaintiff”) in the above-referenced matter. Plaintiff writes jointly with Kam Fung Wong, Inc., D/B/A Kam Fung Wong Poultry, Am Le, A.K.A. “Michelle” Chang, and Henry Chang (“Defendants”) to request that the Court approve the parties’ settlement pursuant to Cheeks v. Freeport Pancake House, Inc., 796 F.3d 199, 206 (2d Cir. 2015). The parties’ settlement agreement, and exhibits to this letter motion, are included with this letter motion. For all the reasons that follow, the parties respectfully request that the Court grant the instant motion in its entirety on the grounds that the settlement in this FLSA action represents a fair and reasonable compromise of a bona fide dispute.

I. Relevant Background

Plaintiff brought this action to recover: (a) unpaid wages and overtime premium pay under the Fair Labor Standards Act, 29 U.S.C. § 201 et seq. (“FLSA”); (b) unpaid wages and overtime under the New York Labor Law § 652 et seq. (“NYLL”); (c) penalties from Defendants’ failure to issue Plaintiff with a wage notice and wage statements pursuant to NYLL §§ 195(1) and 195(3); and (d) damages from Defendants’ violations under New York City Human Rights Law § 8-107 et seq. for acts of discrimination on the basis of Plaintiff’s disability.

The parties attended two mediations with an experienced mediator and evaluated their respective positions. The parties wish to avoid the considerable uncertainty and risks of litigation, as well as the expense and length of continued proceedings necessary to prosecute and defend this matter. The Settlement Agreement presented to the Court is the product of arm’s-length negotiations between experienced counsel. A copy of the Settlement Agreement is annexed as Exhibit A.

II. The Proposed Settlement Agreement is Fair and Reasonable

Proposed settlements under the FLSA require court approval because private settlements under the FLSA will not effectuate a valid release. Cheeks, 796 F.3d at 200. Federal courts routinely allow employees seeking to settle and release FLSA claims to do so pursuant to a judicially supervised settlement. Le v. SITA Information Networking Computing USA, Inc., 2008 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 46174, at *2 (E.D.N.Y. June 12, 2008). When parties bring a proposed settlement of an FLSA claim before a court, the court must scrutinize the settlement to determine whether it is fair and reasonable. Velasquez v. SAFI-G, Inc., 137 F. Supp. 3d 582, 584 (S.D.N.Y. 2015). In determining whether a proposed settlement is fair and reasonable, the court must consider the totality of circumstances, including but not limited to the following factors:

- (1) the plaintiff's range of possible recovery; (2) the extent to which 'the settlement will enable the parties to avoid anticipated burdens and expenses in establishing their respective claims and defenses';
- (3) the seriousness of the litigation risks faced by the parties;
- (4) whether 'the settlement agreement is the product of arm's-length bargaining between experienced counsel'; and
- (5) the possibility of fraud or collusion.

Lopez v. Nights of Cabiria, LLC, 96 F. Supp. 3d 170, 176 (S.D.N.Y. 2015) (citing Wolinsky v. Scholastic Inc., 900 F. Supp. 2d 332 (S.D.N.Y. 2012) "Generally, there is a strong presumption in favor of finding a settlement fair, as the Court is generally not in as good a position as the parties to determine the reasonableness of an FLSA settlement." Lliguichuzhca v. Cinema 60, LLC, 948 F. Supp. 2d 362, 365 (S.D.N.Y. 2013) (citations omitted).

A. Plaintiff's range of possible recovery

The Settlement Agreement calls for Plaintiff to receive a fair and reasonable percentage of the possible maximum recovery. Plaintiff will receive one payment of $ 115,000 which represents approximately 30% of his maximum recovery under all his claims<sup>1</sup>. See Exhibit B (damage calculations). Courts have approved FLSA settlements of less than 25% of the maximum possible recovery under wage claims. See Felix v. Breakroom Burgers & Tacos, No. 15-CV-3531, 2016 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 30050 (S.D.N.Y. Mar. 8, 2016) (approving settlement amount of less than 25% of the maximum possible recovery). Here, the 30% of recovery under Plaintiff's FLSA and NYLL claims falls within the range of court approved settlement amounts.

B. Parties' burdens, expenses, and risks in continued litigation

The parties' settlement acknowledges the burdens, expenses, and risks of continued litigation. Plaintiff relies mainly on his recollection to support his position of the hours that he worked and the pay that he received, which Defendants strongly contest. Defendants vigorously dispute Plaintiff's allegations of disability discrimination which would require extensive time and expense to reach a determination on this issue. The Settlement Agreement calls for one payment to Plaintiff within 15 days of the Court's approval of the settlement which would secure a settlement to Plaintiff sooner. See Exhibit A. Considering the inherent risks of proceeding to trial, Plaintiff believes that this settlement is an excellent result of the assertion of his rights and protections and should be approved as fair. See Meigel v. Flowers of the World, NYC, Inc., 2012 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 2359, at *2-3 (S.D.N.Y. Jan. 9, 2012) ("Typically, courts regard the adversarial nature of a litigated FLSA case to be an adequate indicator of the fairness of the settlement. If the proposed settlement reflects a reasonable compromise over contested issues, the court should approve the settlement.")

C. Parties' arm's length negotiations with experienced counsel

Approval of a settlement is warranted where it is the result of "contentious arm's-length negotiations, which were undertaken in good faith by counsel . . . and serious questions of law and fact exist such that the value of an immediate recovery outweighs the mere possibility of further relief after protracted and expensive litigation." Reyes v. Buddha-Bar NYC, 2009 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 45277, at *8 (S.D.N.Y. May 28, 2009).

The settlement was reached after contentious arm's length negotiations. The parties did not reach an agreement after the first mediation held on January 26, 2023. The parties only reached settlement after requesting and later preparing for a second mediation on May 4, 2023. Had no fair compromise been reached on May 4, 2023, the parties intended to proceed with litigation.

Plaintiff's attorney Anamaria Segura litigated numerous lawsuits under the FLSA and NYLL including cases certified as class actions that concluded with court-approved settlements, and individual wage and hour claims ending in settlements subject to Cheeks approval. See, e.g., Pinzon v. 552 La Mina Supermarket, Inc., No. 16 Civ. 460 (S.D.N.Y.); Castillo v. BNV Home Care Agency, No. 650726/2013 (Sup. Ct. N.Y. Cty.); Castillo v. First Care of New York, Inc., No. 51140/2013 (Sup. Ct. Westchester Cty.); Luna v. Lorenzo & Maria's 1418 Kitchen Co., No. 13 Civ. 1564 (S.D.N.Y); see also Sykes v. Harris, No. 09 Civ. 8486, 2016 WL 3030156, at *4 (S.D.N.Y. May 24, 2016) (approving consumer class action settlement in which MFY Legal Services and co-counsel represented plaintiffs, noting experience of counsel).

Plaintiff's attorney Brian Nettle has strictly pursued labor and employment litigation working as a solo practitioner and co-counsel with experienced attorneys with favorable results including court approval under a Cheeks motion. See e.g., Hernandez v. Yours Wholesome Foods, Inc. et al., No. 22 Civ. 3011 (S.D.N.Y.) (court approval of the FLSA settlement); Nai He Li v. Moon Mode Design Fashion, Inc. et al., No. 22 Civ. 793 (E.D.N.Y.) (present litigation under FLSA and NYLL claims); Bonilla et al. v. Lucero Produce II Corp et al., No. 22 Civ. 153 (S.D.N.Y.) (present litigation under FLSA and NYLL claims). Attorney Nettle has also litigated numerous wage and discrimination claims in arbitration.

D. Limited releases, confidentiality and non-disparagement present no barrier to approval

No other barriers exist in approving the terms of the Settlement Agreement. Southern District courts scrutinize confidentiality and non-disparagement provisions in FLSA settlement agreements to ensure that they do not undermine the public purposes of the FLSA. See e.g., Lopez, LLC, 96 F. Supp. 3d 170, 178 (S.D.N.Y. 2015) (court must safeguard “public’s independent interest in assuring that employees’ wages are fair”) (Kaplan, J.); Santos v. El Tepeyac Butcher Shop Inc., 2015 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 168186 at * 4 (confidentiality and non-disparagement provisions may not “thwart Congress’s intent to ensure widespread compliance with” the statute) (S.D.N.Y. Dec. 15, 2015) (Abrams, J.). There is no non-disparagement clause in the Settlement Agreement and the Settlement Agreement expressly states that “[n]othing in this Agreement shall be construed to keep the terms and conditions of this Agreement confidential.” See Exhibit A.

III. Plaintiff’s Attorney’s Fees are Fair and Reasonable

Where a proposed settlement of FLSA claims includes the payment of attorney’s fees, the court must also assess the reasonableness of the fee award. Lliguichuzcha, 948 F. Supp. 2d at 366. “Counsel must submit evidence providing a factual basis for the [attorney’s fees] award.” Beckert v. Rubinov, 2015 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 145632 at *6 (S.D.N.Y. Oct. 27, 2015) (quotations and citations omitted). See Exhibit C (costs and attorneys’ fees).

Plaintiff’s attorneys’ fees of $10,000.00 is fair and reasonable. The $10,000.00 fee is calculated as of the gross settlement amount after costs are deducted and costs added back in as reimbursement, representing 8% of the settlement amount, well below the lodestar amount of $18,518.10, excluding time spent following the second mediation. See Exhibit C. Courts “regularly approve attorney’s fees of one-third of the settlement amount in FLSA cases.” Pinzon v. Jony Food Corp., No. 18-CV-105(RA), 2018 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 87424, at *8 (S.D.N.Y. May 24, 2018) (quoting Meza v. 317 Amsterdam Corp., No. 14-CV-9007 (VSB) 2015 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 166890 [S.D.N.Y. Dec. 14, 2015]). Approval of this award presents no comparable issues related to approval of the fee award.

For all of the foregoing reasons, the Parties respectfully request that this Court grant the parties joint motion and approve the settlement of this action, including approval of the Plaintiff’s release of claims under the FLSA, so that this action shall be dismissed with prejudice, subject to the condition that the matter may be reopened if the settlement payment is not made within fifteen (15) days of court approval of the Settlement Agreement.

Respectfully submitted,

The Plaintiff shall be responsible for his portion of all taxes, interest, and penalties due with respect to his receipt of his portion of the Settlement Amount reported on IRS Form 1099 and made pursuant to this Agreement. Plaintiff agrees to indemnify, defend, and hold the Defendants harmless from and against any and all taxes, interest, penalties, attorneys' fees, and other costs imposed on the Defendants as a result of his failure to timely pay such taxes. Absent an explicit disavowal of retention of jurisdiction on the part of the United States District Court, such Court's approval of this Agreement shall be construed as a dismissal of the Litigation with prejudice subject to an explicit retention of jurisdiction for purposes of enforcing the provisions of this Agreement.

10. Enforceability: If any provision(s) of this Agreement is held to be illegal, void, or unenforceable, the illegality or unenforceability of such provision(s) shall have no effect upon, and shall not impair the legality or enforceability of, any other provision of this Agreement, provided, however, that upon any finding by a court of competent jurisdiction that a release or waiver of claims or rights or a covenant set forth herein is illegal, void or unenforceable, Plaintiff agrees to promptly execute a release, waiver and/or covenant that is legal and enforceable.
